By United Press.
TUKUM, Ill., Jan. 3.—Eight are known dead in a dry dust explosion today in the dry starch plant of the Corn Products Company factory, the chief of police announced at 10:20 A. M.

Thirty-four are missing, he said. Approximately 50 workers were injured, some fatally. Eight bodies were removed from the blazing debris. More may be in the ruins.

What appeared to be bodies of two men were seen in the ruins. Twenty-six of the missing may be entombed in the basement of the plant. These men were known to have gone to work there 15 minutes before the explosion. Plant officials said approximately 250 men were working in the buildings when the explosion occurred. It may be several days before the real casualty list is completed.

The plant is a blazing mass of ruins, continuing search to the edges. The force of the explosion was terrific, huge sections of the roof being blown high into the air and many workers were blown through windows and doors to the streets.

The starch house was a unit of the huge plant maintained here by the company. It was found to be impossible to control the fire, turned their attention to saving the rest of the buildings.

Families of the dead and missing, worked around the ruins and were held back with difficulty by police and guards. Property damage was estimated at between $500,000 and $750,000.

Paris Rivers
Continue to Menace City

By United Press.
PARIS, Jan. 3.—The rising river Seine broke through dykes at the Billancourt Gate of Paris today and poured in a torrent over the moats and fortifications above the capital. The situation became critical at Asforville, Vekry, Ivry and Chobry-le-tot at which suburbs hundreds of people evacuated.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Three feet of water filled the foreign office cellars today as the flooded river Seine continued to overflow its banks and inundate Paris and its environs. Many valuable documents were destroyed. The flood situation has become most critical. The trucks of two Paris railroad terminals are under water and the stations will be closed.

The suburbs are suffering worse than the city proper. Heavier heavy rains and melting snows are increasing the difficulties of authorities. The rising waters filtered into the basement of the Chamber of Deputies and it is feared will interfere with heating and lighting on the occasion of the opening session next Tuesday.

The first flood casualty occurred when a St. Germain man unable to distinguish between flooded streets and the river drove his automobile into the latter and was drowned.

The Marne also is overflowing its banks. Paris officials admit they have not taken sufficient measures to prevent a catastrophe in event the Seine lavades the streets of the capital.

Communicable
Ills Quadruple
1922 in City

There were four times as many cases of contagious diseases in Connellsville during 1923 as there were in 1922, the annual report, prepared for the Board of Health by Secretary O. C. Harmon and Health Officer George Hetzel shows. In 1922 there were only 38 contagious disease cases reported by city physicians but during the 12-month period just ended there were 374.

The epidemic of measles which swept over the city early last year, causing many absences from school and keeping scores of families under quarantine, was directly responsible for the increase. In 1922 there were 230 such cases called to the attention of the Board of Health as compared with eight during the previous year.

Typhoid fever cases increased one during the year, there being four as compared with the previous report. Scarlet fever also showed a considerable increase, 69 cases in 1923 compared with 14 in 1922. There was only a slight variation in the number of diphtheria patients, 40 being reported this time as compared with 34 last January.

There were 14 whooping-cough cases in 1923. This is an increase of 10 over 1922 when only four were reported. Last year there were 11 chicken-pox cases an increase of five over the previous year.

Two cases of impetigo contagiosa were reported, one case of trichinosis. Since the beginning of the year the Health Department has received no notice of any contagious diseases.

During the measles epidemic last year there were as many as 600 students absent at one time from the city schools. All were not ill with the disease but were in families where some members was a patient and were restrained from attending classes by a quarantine.

Girl Rescued
After Captivity
Of Five Years

By United Press.
BEAR RIVER, N. S., Jan. 3.—Katie, for five years a prisoner, scantily clad, in a prominent dwelling in the heart of Bear River, Bertha Potter, now a woman of 27, was rescued by Nova Scotia authorities on New Year's Eve. William Leat, 62, who took Miss Potter in his home when she was an orphan of 11, is under arrest charged with abduction and a statutory offense.

Leat's wife left him in 1916 and is living in Massachusetts. The man, a respected citizen, sent for the girl to come and keep house for him. Three years later she disappeared. Neighbors were told she had gone away. For five years he saw the girl. During this time, according to her story, who was kept locked up, often without clothing.

A tip came to the authorities in the form of a confidential letter from the United States. When they forced their way into the house and demanded to know the whereabouts of the girl the Saskatchewan raised his voice and Miss Potter came in.

SCOTSDALE, Jan. 3.—Yesterday morning when Ivan Hertz went into his barn, which sets just off Broadway north of the Frick offices, and in which are kept several cows and one or two horses, he spotted a gun and an automobile robe sticking out of the hay, and also noticed that the hay had been tramped down.

Servant Steals
$3,000 but Fails
To Get It Away

Marie Gibson, colored, 17 years old, is being held at the police station on a charge of being a suspicious person, following her confession last night that she attempted to rob the home of A. C. Slickel in Chestnut street, where she is employed.

The girl was arrested following an investigation conducted by Patrolmen O'neal and Nea. She admitted she had taken valuables including 12 jewelry boxes, diamond rings, a watch, and some cash, the total value of which was placed close to $3,000. All were contained in a mesh bag belonging to Mrs. Slickel's mother.

The robbery had been planned in an effort to destroy all evidence of having been an inside job. A ladder had been placed against the back porch roof and an upstairs window in the house was found in the yard.

A little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Slickel discovered the robbery when she went upstairs following the evening meal. Entering her grandmother's room she found wearing apparel scattered about and the window open. The police were summoned.

Questioning the girl the officers finally pinned her down to the confession that she had taken the loot and it was found in a hot air register in the kitchen, where she had hidden it.

Police believe the girl had an accomplice or someone who coached her in the method of pulling the robbery. They do not credit her with being bright enough to have planned the entire affair herself, although the ladder, which had been in the cellar, was not too heavy for her to have handled alone. It is thought she did the work while the family was eating.

The girl will be held at the city hall until her case is taken before an alldayman to be disposed of.

STEADY RAINS BRING RIVERS TO FLOOD STAGES

The Youghiogheny River was nearing a flood stage at noon today as a result of the heavy rains which have been falling for the past 36 hours. At 6 o'clock the stream was at 81.0 feet, a rise of three feet since last evening. It continued to rise steadily during the forenoon and it was believed to have added three feet in those hours.

Snow and colder weather are predicted in the near forecast. If the cold snap, broken by the rainy spell, holds again it will check the heavy flow of waters and probably prevent thousands of dollars worth of damage further down the stream, notably at Pittsburgh.

Baltimore & Ohio Railroad officials in Pittsburgh today were checking up on the stages of streams which flow through that place. The Allegheny at noon was reported at 17 feet, just two feet below the record stage. The Monongahela is near flood stage.

The prediction yesterday that there would be rain and sleet proved correct but the sleet did not last long. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon the rain froze and the street surfaces were very slippery but the continued downpour melted this and no accidents from such conditions were reported.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 3.—With the Ohio River standing at 29 feet at noon today and waters rising six inches per hour the river will be at flood stage by tomorrow morning, rivermen here report.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—The wreckage of the lost dirigible Dixmude was found in the Mediterranean Sea today. An aluminum tank and half-burned debris told of the air liner's fate. One of the gasoline tanks was found at San Marco, on the Sicilian coast.

A telegram to the ministry of marine from the commander of the cruiser Fulmore confirmed the belief that the disaster to the Dixmude, which cost the lives of 50 French officers and men, occurred off Sicily.

A report from Toulon said the aluminum gasoline tank which was picked up bore numerous peculiar scabbles which have not been deciphered. It is thought these might be the last messages from some of the crew.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Bodies of two more of the missing dirigible Dixmude crew were found in the Mediterranean east of Sicily on the coast of Sicily today, according to a wireless message received at 4:30 P. M. The ministry of marine was without official confirmation of the report.

The giant airship, pride of France's sky fleet, slipped December 15 and was last seen December 20, flying over Algeria. Storms blew the dirigible from its course and it is believed the Dixmude was struck by lightning.

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. Marmon's Prescription Tablets overcome all these difficulties. They are absolutely harmless, entail no starvation or exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. A box is sold at one dollar by all druggists. You would over, or send the price direct to the Marmon Co., 3012 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. Now this you know: you have no excuse for being fat, but can reduce steadily and easily without going through long stages of laxative operation and starvation diet or loss of fat tissue—admitting it.

S. A. Blythe of Greenburg and John Lloyd Trout, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Trout, of near Greenburg, solemnized Monday, December 31 at the church in Greenburg.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have
Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color. These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headache, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, nothing doing, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—and then just to keep them fit, 15c and 50c.

CULBRANSEN

The Registering Piano

Real Music—"As You Like It"

Do your own playing! It's so much more fun than to have others do it for you!

To go to your Culbransen—and actually play—gives you a real sense of accomplishment! It interests—satisfies! It is one of the most delightful experiences imaginable!

Delightful because Culbransen music is so expressive! So full of feeling—so full of life—you take a personal part in producing it.

Accented, for instance. That's important! For in any piece you play there's a strain of "melody" you must pick out and accent properly, to give it a pleasing rendition.

But, where are the melody notes? In what part of the keyboard do they occur? With the ordinary player-piano that's a real problem. But by observing the Melody Indicator—a simple and convenient little patented guide—you know where the melody notes are, and just where to accent them, on the Culbransen!

The Melody Indicator greatly simplifies correct playing. In combination with sensitive "pedal-touch" and Culbransen Instruction Rolls, it is the thing that makes musically playing possible!

THIS WOMAN RELIEVED FROM SUFFERING

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A Remarkable Story

Do you, dear, "I wish every woman would take your wonderful medicine and be as healthy and happy as I am. I had cramps and faint spells and every kind of trouble. One day I was over to my neighbor's house and she told me I ought to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I went to the store and got a bottle, and took the first dose before supper. I feel so much better now and I can do my work and I am so happy. I have been taking it ever since and you can hardly believe how different I feel. I had just wanted to lie in bed all the time, and when I started to brush up I would give out in about ten minutes. So you know how badly I felt. I used to go to bed at night and get up at seven, still tired. Now I can work all day and stay up until eleven, and feel all right all the time. My housework is all I do in summer, but in winter I work in a factory. I have told a good many of my friends, and I have had three come to me and tell me they wouldn't do without the Vegetable Compound."

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Making a Dressing Room.

One Mother Says: With four little girls, I just had to train them to put their clothes at night where they could be found in the morning. One small bedroom was turned into a dressing room. A small rack with hangers was bought for each child. At night each one hung the garments worn during the day on the rack and the nightgown took its place on the rack in the morning. Slippers and shoes stood at attention beside the rack. A big chest of drawers was also placed in the room, the highest drawer being for the tallest and so stepped down with the lowest for the littlest.

CHINESE BANDITS REVIVE OLD FORM OF EXTORTION

Outlaws' Threat to Desecrate Graves of Ancestors Brings Money From Rich.

A practice almost as old as China itself—that of extorting money from white-robe Chinese by threatening to desecrate or by actually desecrating ancestral graves—has been revived by Hunan bandits.

Nanyang, in the middle of Honan province, offers an outstanding example of this revival. Once a thriving town and the home of Chu Ko Liang, famous hero and strategist of the time of the Three Kingdoms, Nanyang has become a bandit stronghold. Virtually all wealthy Chinese have long since left the place to escape extortion. But the bandits still have a grip on them.

By threatening to exhume the bones of their parents or other ancestors, the most sacred things conceivable to the mind of the Chinese, and to burn them or scatter them to the four winds, the bandits are virtually certain of receiving ransom money from these wealthy people. They are just as certain of the money as if they had possession of the victim of extortion himself or of his living relatives.

Moreover, even in the event a captive is killed owing to delay on the part of friends or relatives in paying ransom money, the body still remains to be ransomed to save it from desecration.

It is said there are at least sixty gangs of bandits centering around Nanyang and occupying more than fifty villages in the surrounding territory. The gangs range in number from 500 to 2,000 members each. Bandit is striving to attain the fame of the infamous "White Wolf" who for years terrorized portions of Hunan province before banditry became such a widely recognized profession.

"Wang the Bearded," "Wang the Monk," "Chung the North" are titles assumed by three of the gang leaders. No apparent effort is being made by the military authorities to suppress these gangs.

Two More Pre-Season Games To be Played by High School

Fairmont, W. Va., High Team Will Be Here Tomorrow; St. Vincent Next.

BOTH STRONG OUTFITS

The Connelville High School plays two more games this week. One will be staged tomorrow evening between the Connelville and Fairmont High School; the other on Saturday night with St. Vincent's College. Both these teams are considered far stronger than those yet encountered in pre-season clashes and will go far towards bringing the squad to a point where it will be ready to meet Scottsdale at the Hill Tower next Tuesday evening. That game will be the first for the boys in the W. B. L. A. League this year.

A practice scheduled for the team yesterday had to be called off because of cleaning going on in the school but today the squad will workout after classes.

The St. Vincent team is always an attraction here during the Christmas and New Year holiday season. The two outfits have met a number of times with varying success for both. A big crowd always witnesses this clash.

St. Vincent College And Casey Club Will Clash Here Tonight

Tonight at the High School the St. Vincent College Club of Casey and the Casey Club of this city will clash in basketball. The game will be called at 8:15 o'clock.

It will be the first game of the season for the Casey who look forward to having a strong organization on the floor this year.

Of Interest to Fans.

The Connelville High School, playing the Alumni on Monday night, won a 22-17 victory.

Some basketball fans are urging those back of the City League last season to get together and consider the possibility of another this year. It is suggested that a four-team league be organized. Good strong clubs would draw the crowds, it is declared by some.

The "Knotty Problems of Basketball" appearing in The Courier are being read with interest by those who play the game. Any fan or player who has some peculiar situation puzzling him will be given a correct and definite reply by addressing such a query to this paper. A basketball expert is in charge of the replies.

The Gully Fraternity will take up the basketball matter again on Monday night. The club is anxious to get going again this season. There is some excellent material available.

Some time later this year floor fans will be in for a treat when the Gully Fraternity, Casey Club and John Tumara begin a three-cornered fight for the city championship.

Uniontown anticipates having its best independent team this year, made up entirely of local boys.
